

PhotoVoice Project!

Lighthouse Communities is currently recruiting volunteers to participate the “Southtown PhotoVoice Project.” We would like to have approximately 60 volunteers!

PhotoVoice has three goals:

1. To enable people to reflect on their communities strength and weaknesses
2. To promote dialogue about community issues through group discussions of photographs
3. To reach policy makers

Each teen will be paired with an adult. Together as a team, they will be assigned to take photos of places or things within their neighborhood which they either like or dislike. Each “team” will separately write a brief narrative describing how they feel about the picture they took and why. The photos will be displayed later this year within Southtown. The project will be launched Spring 2010.
